Organising collective and partners

TU Delft for Integrity is a grassroots initiative composed of academic staff, researchers, and students that came together after the latest strike against budget cuts. We are working on collective ways of improving the safety and integrity of our university.

The FNV is the largest trade union in the Netherlands, empowering collective action and standing up for the interests of nearly 900,000 members across the country, and active members the TU Delft.

The European Legal Support Center (ELSC) is the first and only independent organisation defending and empowering the Palestine solidarity movement across Europe through legal means.

Time to build safety together.

Safety goes beyond an integrity office. It cannot be ensured by TU Delft's current approach.

We—organized staff, union members, and union representatives, in partnership with experienced lawyers—come together to explore better ways to make sure integrity meets safety—and standards remain standards, not just slogans.

In solidarity with courageous colleagues who decided to speak up and uphold their integrity—even when faced with serious, unsafe environments. In solidarity with all the colleagues and students who face daily safety issues and injustices; in solidarity with those who dare to speak up.

This event is inspired by colleagues who raised concerns about the university's complicity with the genocide in Gaza and faced retaliation instead of support.

A clear case of systemic failure: integrity dismissed, silenced, punished.

The issue goes beyond Gaza. But Gaza remains the ethical test of our time. Let us claim our right to stand up against injustice, and let us all build the safety we have been longing for together.

What this event offers

Experts and organizers who have worked directly with workplace integrity cases will provide insight into:

- How legal protections can support staff
- How unions and collective organizing strengthen safety
- What institutional mechanisms and transparency structures prevent conflicts and protect integrity

Who should come?

Staff and students who care about integrity, human rights, and building a safer university—for everyone. Sign up through the QR code on the back.

From concern to collective solutions

Not just problems—practical pathways forward:

- Strengthening collective support among colleagues
- Developing transparent mechanisms for ethical deliberation
- Ensuring those who uphold integrity are not left alone
